Headline:
Sunny spells. Warm after a chilly start.

Today:
Mainly dry and bright with sunny spells and becoming warm. However, cloudier skies at times in the far north with the odd shower expected over Shetland. Winds mostly light with sea breezes keeping some coasts cooler.

Tonight:
Dry with any cloud fading away during this evening, clear skies overnight leading to a frost. Cloudier at times in the far north, the odd shower across Shetland.

Friday:
Bright with some good spells of sunshine, although cloud could increase for a time around the middle of the day with an isolated shower possible over the hills.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry and bright with some warm spells of sunshine and overnight frosts becoming isolated. Risk of a few afternoon showers, especially over the hills. However, some rain on Monday.
